entirely won't be known until next week.

And, by that time, the committee is expected to have the records it wants to examine.

The committee wants to see FCC files in a case involving a recent six-month renewal of the license of WFLA-TV in Indianapolis, Ind. The FCC approved it on a 4-3 vote.

Although the committee issued a subpoena for Hyde to produce the documents, he failed to do so with full FCC backing. The vote for the contempt resolution came after two days of closed-door sessions.

Daniel R. O'Hara, FCC's deputy general counsel, said the records were not refused, but withheld for legal reasons until its action in the renewal case becomes final next Monday.

Should the FCC reverse itself by that time, he said, the reconsideration could be jeopardized if it had turned the files over to the House panel because a court could view that as a "reversible error."

Staggers said there wasn't any allegation of wrongdoing on Hyde's part by his panel. "It is just our right to the records."

Should the House uphold the committee's recommendation for a contempt citation, it would be sent to the Justice Department for prosecution as a misdemeanor. A conviction would carry a fine from $100 to $1,000 and jail term from one month to one year.

The hijacker kept aboard the plane Pilot Donald J. Cook, First Officer W. M. Williams, Flight Engineer L. Mollorah and stewardess T. Coleman.

Newsman were stopped by police at the Stapleton International Airport concourse where the big jet landed.

Three members of a singing group, Harper's Bizarre, said they saw the man, dressed in an Army field jacket and carrying what appeared to be an Army M-1 rifle, come up the aisle with the muzzle of the weapon at a stewardess' back.

"The lights were out in the plane," said John Peterson, 24, of Santa Cruz, Calif., a member of the group.

"We were over San Francisco at the time. None of us had seen him come on," he said.

Another member of the group, Ted Templeman, 26, also from Santa Cruz, said the man went on up the aisle behind the stewardess and when he reached the pilot's cabin, shouted, "Open the door, open the door!"

Templeman said until then the man appeared to be quite calm. Then, he said, "he lost his cool."

The hijacker was described as a man in his early 20s, about 5-feet-8 or 5-feet-9.

feating the French.

But the main purpose of the 3½-year U.S. bombing campaign was to cut down infiltration of enemy troops and supplies into South Vietnam and to raise the cost to Hanoi for continuing to support the war.

Despite about half a million tons of U.S. bombs and rockets dumped on roads, railroads, bridges, canals and streams, the North Vietnamese managed to maintain a flow of war gear to their troops and the Viet Cong in the South.

U.S. air officers contended they could have virtually shut off the supply flow if they had not been limited by restrictions to minimize North Vietnamese civilian casualties.

Some 600,000 North Vietnamese were diverted from raising food to keep open the lines of communication and to man air defenses. With the end of the bombing, many returned to the rice paddies, but thousands were put to work rebuilding bomb damage.

Here is what they have accomplished:

All destroyed and damaged bridges have been repaired along major railroad lines. Temporary structures are giving way to permanent steel and concrete spans.

Modern diesel engines are now seen by U.S. reconnaissance planes as far south as the city of Vinh, a major transshipment point. An important northeast rail route from Hanoi to Red China has been virtually reconverted to dual gauge.

All major roads leading into the Laotian panhandle are open once more to truck traffic, with numerous bypasses built to facilitate the movement of military cargo in the unlikely event of resumed bombing. The truck road network into Laos has been extended and tied to the western end of the demilitarized zone.

Vinh has been built up to a more important position than ever as a supply movement point. For the first time since 1965, big foreign merchant ships are unloading cargo to Vinh by barge and junk, rather than hauling their loads to Haiphong some 190 miles further north.

cause Finch himself precipitated the court's abandonment of its previous doctrine of "all deliberate speed" by requesting a delay in the desegregation of 33 Mississippi school districts. The high court Wednesday overturned the ruling of a federal court of appeals that had accepted Finch's request for delay.

HEW is armed with one of the government's two weapons against school segregation: A cutoff of federal aid to districts that refuse to dismantle dual systems. The other is court orders requested by the Justice Department.

Aid termination was afforded a back seat to court-ordered desegregation under the Nixon administration's July 3 school guidelines. And many southerners welcomed the shift believing court orders offered a chance for further delay.

But a number of administration officials now think southern superintendents will prefer desegregation supervised by HEW. Court-ordered plans will have to be immediate, or so the argument goes, while HEW may be open to negotiation.

HEW reports that approximately 3,700 of 4,500 school districts in the 17 southern and border states are now desegregated or have promised to desegregate. However, estimates are that between 60 and 67 per cent of black southern children are still attending segregated schools this year.

ment of Health, Education and Welfare while Johnson was president.

"Senator Williams has seen fit to suggest—at least by implication—that there is something improper or unethical about this worthwhile project," Erwin said in a statement Thursday.

"This is most unfortunate because the project was conceived with nothing but the highest motives and has thus far been carried on in a manner that is above reproach."

A deed filed with the Travis County clerk Dec. 17, 1968—just over a month before Johnson left the White House—shows the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare conveyed most of the old National Fish Hatchery site to Austin Geriatric Center.

The HEW secretary fixed the property's fair market value at $642,000, the deed says. But the corporation received the land free in exchange for "earning a public benefit allowance of 100 per cent of said sum" by meeting conditions set by HEW.

Austin Geriatric Center, Inc., was chartered by the Texas secretary of state Nov. 20, 1968.

Right now hundreds of thousands of people in northern climes are scheming up excuses to take a winter vacation or business trip to Florida or a Caribbean port. They are more to be pitied than censured. They flee south because they have chionophobia, the fear of snow.

You fret and fume because you are unable to understand or handle your teen-age son or daughter? A lot of people share your plight, and you all have the same malady. It is teratophobia, the fear that you've given birth to a monster.

Yes, there is a wonderful-sounding disease for every human being alive, even for the deguy who worries because he is too healthy in a society where all around him are ill.

He is sick, too. He's got an unconscious case of eremophobia, the fear of being lonely.

U.S. to Help Ease Adoption of Ruling

By BARRY SCHWEID

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has promised to help ease adoption and acceptance of the Supreme Court decision ordering an immediate end to government-sponsored school desegregation.

But there were painful grumblings from the South, where the milestone ruling will have its deepest effect.

Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia called the Mississippi schools decision a "criminal act" and appealed for a taxpayers' revolt.

George C. Wallace, former Alabama governor and the 1968 third party presidential candidate, called the decision "scurrilous policy." "This court is no better than the Warren court," he said.

Atty. Gen. A. F. Summer of Mississippi said, without amplification, his state will fight to change the ruling.

And Mississippi Gov. John Bell Williams said the school children of his state had been "cruelly offered as sacrificial lambs on the altar of social experimentation."

President Nixon led the administration pledge-making with a promise the executive branch would "assist in every possible way" to overcome the "practical and human problems involved."

The President's press aide, Ronald L. Ziegler, added in a more vigorous vein: "The administration will enforce the law . . . The administration will carry out the mandate."

Three Games Could Decide Title in SE

By MIKE BRYSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

Take three teams that were supposed to be just mediocre but are far from it, add three equally dangerous squads, throw in a jinx or two, add an arch-rivalry ... and what do you get?

A slam-bag trio of college football games as far as the hectic Southeastern Conference race is concerned.

It's been a long time since one conference could boast an awesome lineup equally Saturday's SEC games that match:

No. 3-ranked Tennessee, riding a five-game victory string, at defending champion Georgia, No. 11; No. 7 Florida at No. 17 Auburn and No. 8 Louisiana State against its arch-rival, rugged Mississippi, at Jackson, Miss.

LSU and Florida, both 6-0 for the season, are tied with Tennessee for first place with 2-0 marks. Ironically, all three teams were picked in pre-season polls to finish among the league's also-rans.

Tennessee, idle last week, is a one-point favorite over the Bulldogs, 2-1 and 5-1, but to win it the Vols will have to solve Georgia's stingy defense and a string of success at home.

The Bulldogs have yielded an average of only 8.2 points per game and rank ninth in rushing defense. On top of that, they have lost only two games and tied one in 26 at home under Coach Vince Dooley. But the Vols are rolling along with a 39.6-point average, fourth best in the country.

Florida—off to an astonishing start with a sophomore-laden attack headed by quarterback John Reeves, who leads the country with 20 touchdown passes—is the nation's third best scoring outfit with a 39.7 average and ranks eighth in total offense.

Auburn, 4-2 and 1-2, has been tabbed a touchdown favorite, however, thanks to a crew of stoppers that rank second in total defense and seventh in pass defense.

In addition, Florida Coach Ray Graves has taken some dandy Gator teams to Auburn, only to have the Tigers maintain their home field jinx.

However, Graves is little more optimistic this season. "I feel like this is probably the best team I've taken to Auburn. I know they're capable of beating anyone," he said.

Louisiana State, which has a 36.3 scoring average along with a tight defense, has lost five and tied one of its last seven meetings with Mississippi, 1-2 and 3-3, and to improve on that the Tigers will have to stop sensational junior quarterback Archie Manning.

"If you let him operate at his will, you better hold on," said Coach Charles McClendon.

Other games Saturday find top-ranked Ohio State at Northwestern, No. 2 Texas at Southern Methodist, Texas A&M at No. 4 Arkansas, Boston College at No. 5 Penn State, No. 6 Southern California at California, Washington at No. 9 UCLA and Navy at No. 10 Notre Dame.

Also, it's No. 12 Kansas State at No. 14 Missouri, No. 13 Purdue at Illinois, No. 15 Wyoming at Arizona State in a night game, No. 16 Stanford at Oregon State, No. 18 Colorado at Nebraska, No. 19 Air Force at Army and Wisconsin at No. 20 Michigan.

Ohio State isn't expected to have much trouble running its victory string to 20 straight—and six for the season—against Northwestern, stung 45-20 by Purdue last week.

But Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes will have a wary eye to the past. In 1958, Hayes' undefeated and top-ranked club was upset by the Wildcats 21-0 in the sixth game of the season.

Texas and Arkansas also are expected to maintain their co-leadership in the Southwest Conference. The Longhorns will have a busy afternoon containing SMU passing ace Chuck Hixon, but the Mustangs will have an even tougher time with Texas' bruising running backs.

Arkansas has scored 191 points while giving up only 27, and Texas A&M shouldn't pose much of a threat to either mark.

Penn State, 6-0, is an overwhelming favorite over Boston College, 2-2, but Southern California, 6-0, could be in for a battle to maintain its Pacific-8 lead against stubborn California, 4-2. Second-place UCLA, 6-0-1, is a solid favorite over Washington 0-6.

Kansas State, 5-1, which proved its early season success wasn't a fluke by trouncing Oklahoma 59-21 last week, faces a struggle in preserving its Big Eight lead against Missouri, still smarting from last Saturday's 31-24 upset loss to Colorado.

The Tigers are tied with Colorado and Nebraska for second, all with 2-1 records, behind K-State, 3-0.

Purdue is a big favorite to crush winless Illinois and stay in the thick of the Big Ten race. The Boilermakers, 2-1 in the league, share second with Indiana, Michigan, Northwestern and Wisconsin in the fight for the runner-up spot behind Ohio State—and a trip to the Rose Bowl since the Buckeyes are barred from a repeat visit to the New Year's Day classic.

Milwaukee Again Does It to Pistons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shut out a National Basketball Association team—impossible. But the Milwaukee Bucks did it to the Detroit Pistons for 7½ minutes, and it was long enough.

Trailing 30-23 Thursday night, the Bucks outscored the Pistons 20-0 en route to a 50-24 halftime lead and a 102-81 victory.

Low Alcindor, who fouled out for the third time in eight games, led Milwaukee with 23 points and 19 rebounds and Flynn Robinson contributed 25 points.

Detroit, which scored only 10 points in the second quarter, was led by Dave Bing with 21 points.

In the only other NBA games, New York topped San Diego 123-110 and Phoenix shaded Cincinnati 106-104.

Indiana edged Washington 123-121 in overtime and Los Angeles downed New Orleans 117-110, also in overtime, in the American Basketball Association.

Walt Frazier pumped in 28 of his pro career high 43 points in the second half, to lead New York from a 59-53 halftime deficit to its victory over San Diego.

Willis Reed added 22 points for New York, as Elvin Hayes topped San Diego with 25.

Rookie Neal Walk's lay-up with two seconds to play gave Phoenix its triumph over Cincinnati as the Suns overcame a 12-point deficit.

Call Goodrich topped Phoenix with 27 points and Tom Van Arsdale led the Royals with 23.

Bobcats Will Try to Beat Odds Tonight

By RALPH ROUNTON

Star Sports Writer

Though Camden has everything going their way, the Hope Bobcats will try to overcome the odds tonight in the Panthers' Coleman Stadium with the 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

Camden has orange and black school colors for Halloween, it's their Homecoming, and everyone rates them a favorite by as much as two touchdowns. Lesser opponents than Hope would be beaten before the opening whistle.

However, the Bobcats have their own luck and a 6-2 record, the same as Camden's and the result should be a well-played battle with the success of the offenses reflecting the biggest factors in victory or defeat.

The Panthers will run the ball all night, mainly because it's their thing but also because they can't pass. QB Ted Gammill might throw a few, but his completion average is low and his size (5-8, 135) fits him more as a running operator.

Backs are present in quality and quantity, but the threats are Thomas Dansby, one of the league's top scorers and a good kicker and scabbard Bill Jordan, a 140-pound senior.

On defense Camden runs a confusing 4-4-3 that in essence is an eight-man front designed to stop the average high school running offense. The problem is that no body has been able to pass against the Panthers either; Warren last Friday threw three times for three interceptions.

Thusly, both teams in this case provide proven defenses that have been known to annihilate the unanticipating opposition. Camden has blanked opponents twice including the 6-0 Warren win, while Hope has three shut-out victories counting the 21-0 Magnolia upset last week.

As a result, the offenses will make the difference. Fans attending the game will see Camden run mostly out of the Texas 'Y'; however, Hope Coach Gaylord Solomon (who scouted them last week) said yesterday that the Panthers "will run a bunch of trashy formations, like the Dallas Cowboys or SMU."

This surprise element is designed to panic the defense, and Camden also will make extensive use of halfback passes and traps.

Knowing that Hope's is the best rushing offense in all of 4-AA, you wonder if it can be stopped. Fairview did the job, but the development of fullback Gary Jones to complement Art Martin's flashy statistics has balanced the attack while Massaneli's throwing is still a big factor.

With the big weight advantage, the Bobcats won't be stopped. It could be tough for a while, but without a mud bowl field the better team will win. All things in the hat, Hope will take it 14-8 to move on toward Arkadelphia on November 21. And watch for Magnolia to give Fairview a tough time before losing to the Cardinals 21-13.

KXAR will broadcast the Camden game live from there, with pre-game activities starting about 7:00 p.m.

Razorbacks Open Annual Nov. Serge

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)

—The Arkansas Razorbacks, who have been almost unbeatable during the past nine November, open what they hope will be another November surge here Saturday against Texas A&M.

Arkansas is 27-5 during November the past nine years. Six times the Razorbacks have zipped through their November schedule without a scratch. Four of the five losses came during the Razorbacks' 5-5 season of 1963 and their 4-5-1 season of 1967.

Frank Broyles, coach of the fourth-ranked Razorbacks, cannot explain the November success.

"I think it's just been a group of circumstances that's made it that way," Broyles said.

A&M administered one of those 1967 losses on its way to the Southeastern Conference championship. Last year, the Razorbacks rallied for a 25-22 victory over the Aggies and went on to gain a share of the SWC title.

The Aggies are 1-2 in conference play this year, beating Baylor 24-0 last week. Arkansas, 5-0 for the season and 2-0 in the conference, whipped Baylor 21-7 a couple of weeks ago.

"A&M are a good football team," Broyles said. "They've been progressing. Their inexperienced players aren't inexperienced any more."

In this era of offensive battles, the defense could be the deciding factor.

Arkansas is second in the conference in defense, A&M is third. The Razorbacks are also the nation's leaders against scoring, giving up 27 points in five games.

"Their defensive line of scrimmage will be the equal of a n y we've played," said Broyles. "They are well versed in the fundamentals of pursuit and gang tackling. They've only had five touchdowns scored on them in their last five games."

Broyles said that quarterback Bill Montgomery and flanker Chuck Deuss, who sat out the Razorbacks' 52-14 victory over Wichita State last week with injuries, will start Saturday. He also said that middle linebacker Cliff Powell, who suffered a hyper-extension of his right elbow in the Wichita State game, probably would play.

The game is scheduled for regional television on ABC.

Picks Hogs, Winners in the AIC

LITTLE ROCK (AP)

—Two years ago Texas A&M used Arkansas as a springboard to the Southwest Conference championship.

Last year, the Razorbacks won a 25-22 thriller on their way to a share of the SWC title.

It doesn't look as if the Aggies are going anywhere in the conference this year, but they could ruin Arkansas' plans Saturday at Fayetteville.

The fourth-ranked Razorbacks are 5-0 for the season and 2-0 in the conference and A&M is the first of five straight conference games.

The Aggies are 1-2 in the conference, scoring a 24-0 victory over Baylor last week. Arkansas defeated Baylor 21-7 a couple of weeks ago.

Both Arkansas and A&M are strong defensively. The Razorbacks rank second in total defense in the conference, a notch ahead of the Aggies.

Arkansas tailback Bill Burnett is second in the conference in rushing and fullback Bruce Maxwell is fourth. Sandwiched between them is A&M tailback Larry Stogert, who was instrumental in the Aggies' victory over the Razorbacks in 1967.

Rocky Self, a sophomore, is the A&M quarterback. Bill Montgomery, a junior, will be calling signals for Arkansas. That could be the difference.

ARKANSAS 24, A&M 7.

Arkansas State University meets Lamar Tech Saturday and a victory by the Indians would leave them in excellent position to repeat as Southland Conference champions.

The Indians' victory over Abilene Christian College last week indicates that they don't intend to surrender their crown easily.

The running of tailback Calvin Harrell and fullback Marshall Walls has given the Indians a balanced attack.

ASU 21, LAMAR TECH 14.

Last week's record was 4-2, a .667 percentage.

Here are other college selections:

HENDERSON 21, SOUTH-EAST OKLAHOMA 14.

HARDING 20, NORTHWOOD INSTITUTE 10.

SCA 14, CAMERON, OKLA., 10.

ARKANSAS A&M 10, AUSTIN PEAY 7.

ARKANSAS TECH 20, SOUTHERN STATE 14.

Farmboy Rookie Busting Up Pro Lines

By HUBERT MIZELL

MIAMI (AP) — Georgia farmboy Bill Stanfill is busting up pro offensive lines as easily as he did in college, but a Miami coach says the 254-pound Dolphin rookie remains "a mere baby."

Stanfill had worried about his first American Football League season despite being All-America three times with the Georgia Bulldogs and winning the Outland Trophy as college football's best 1968 lineman.

The farm boy worries no more.

"He's a helluva prospect," said Miami Coach George Wilson. "Bill's strong as an ox, has quickness and the desire to break through anybody to reach the ball carrier."

The way Stanfill packs his 6-foot-5 body with muscle it's tough to think of him as an infant. But Les Bingham does.

"Good as Bill is, he's just being born into pro football," said the Dolphins' defensive line boss. "There's no telling how good he can be. That's up to Stanfill, but the personal equipment is there to be alone at the top."

Stanfill draws it when he speaks, the way most folks do down in Cairo, Ga., where his dad used to run a farm. That's pronounced "Kay-row." Most un-Egyptian.

Stanfill has grown up since starring in football and basketball for the Cairo High School. He signed a three-year Miami contract for in the neighborhood of $100,000, drives a $6,000 car and just bought a new home in Athens, Ga., near the University of Georgia campus.

His philosophies are changing, too.

"In the pros, you have to psyche yourself to get 'up' for games," he said. "At Georgia we just showed up and were ready to go. It's more like a business in the pros. Think, think, think all the time. Concentrate, concentrate."

Bill had just finished one of the four meetings he attends weekly with the Miami defensive line.

JOCKEY BILL SHOEMAKER never had better backing than during this taping session for an upcoming television special. Shoemaker will sing "The Race Is On," and make his dancing debut in the process. The wagering is he likes it better than riding horses.

Kittens in Victory Over Fairview

By RALPH ROUNTON

Star Sports Writer

Returning to form with a rushing attack and good defense, the Hope Yegger Junior High Bobkittens thrashed the Fairview Cardinals 21-0 last night in Hammons Stadium on a wet and foggy field.

And Yegger finishes the 1969 season with a 4-AA record, after starting 3-0 in September. After last year's 6-1 team, though, the overall effort for this squad produced more win than many expected before the season began.

Last evening there was never a doubt, as Kittens David Johnson and David Huddleston pounded at the Fairview defenders for over 100 yards each, and Johnson scored all three touchdowns.

A first-period defensive struggle was broken only by a nullified 72-yard scoring pass from QB Buddy Ingram to Johnson on Yegger's first offensive play. On the quarter's final play, though, a Fairview punt was blocked and traveled only seven yards to the Card 37.

On first down an illegal receiver penalized the Kittens back to their own 47, where a scoring drive developed covering seven plays.

Needing 25 yards for a first down, Johnson ran for 11 and Huddleston carried twice for 15 and the first and ten at the 24.

At this point the scoreboard clock began malfunctioning, and for the remainder of the half took two seconds to click off one, and skipping ten seconds at various times.

That didn't effect the Kittens after a nine-minute delay, though, and Johnson came back with a 15-yard blast to paydirt. Huddleston kicked the PAT, and Yegger led 7-0 with 6:16 left in the half.

Fairview got off an offensive late in the half, but Bobkitten Don Lively intercepted a Steve Wilson pass at the Hope 17 to leave the score at 7-0 as the half ended.

An onside kickoff gave the Cardinals the ball at the Yegger 47 to open the third segment, and they proceeded to run off a quick first down. Here the Kittens defense stiffened, though, and forced a punt from the 39.

Johnson fielded the boot at his four, and struck out down the sideline for 54 yards to the Fairview 42.

Hitching to go now, the Kittens began running with gaping holes opened by the front line. Huddleston (3-20) and Johnson (7-22) did the work, with Johnson scoring from the one with 1:21 left in the period. The PAT was blocked, and Yegger had it 13-0.

After a punt exchange, the Cards passed for a first down and moved into Bobkitten territory, but gambled and lost on fourth down and gave up the ball at the Hope 44.

It took two plays, as Huddleston dove for five and Johnson blasted 51 yards for the final tally. Ingram passed to Jackie Barker for the conversion to make it 21-0 with 4:37 left.

Johnson carried 17 times for 152 yards and Huddleston recorded 104 more on 14 runs. Meanwhile the defense set about holding Fairview to 12 yards rushing.

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus sat there saying he was playing as well as he had in two years, and talking rather casually about winning three or four tournaments in a row.

And he didn't discount the possibility of leading the money winning list. Right now he trails Frank Beard by about $77,000 with only the current Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament and three others to go.

Nicklaus, winner of the Sahara Invitational in his last start, charged in with a 66 on Thursday and shared the first round lead in the $140,000 Kaiser with Lou Graham and Jack Courtney.

"If I win here," said Nicklaus, who has won about $94,000 this year, "that would put me only about $1,000 behind Gary Player," who is third on the list with about $123,000. And Player isn't going to play any more this year.

ing as the Cards never penetrated the Yegger 30.

The entire Bobkitten season will come under review sometime next week, as without a break the basketballers begin work.

Frazier Leads Knicks Over San Diego

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "When I score a lot of points my defense suffers," says Walt Frazier.
Maybe, but not as much as San Diego's defense suffered Thursday night.
Frazier, the man who sets the tempo for the tough New York Knicks' defense with his steals and gears the offense with his pinpoint passes, gunned in 43 points in the Knicks' 123-110 National Basketball Association victory over the Rockets.
"I at least wanted to score 20," said Frazier, who in the previous game had scored just 14 in 17 minutes of play because of foul trouble.
He scored 28 in the second half, just 23 less than the entire San Diego team.
"A lot of times I couldn't even get my hands up on defense," said Frazier.
He stole the ball several times.

and was his usual pesky self, roaming all over the floor to break up San Diego play patterns and put pressure on the shooter.
"I always try to play an all-around game," said Frazier.
Besides, setting the defensive tempo, he also established the offensive pace as usual, grabbing nine rebounds and handed out five assists.
Walt Frazier is the personification of this season's edition of the Knicks, winners of nine of their first 10 games.
He is the most explosive part of an explosive offense, getting or setting up a field goal when it is most needed. He is the most tenacious part of a tenacious defense, coming up with a steal that can change the momentum of a game.
Walt Frazier is cocky in a self-confident way. He is a team leader in attitude and in statistics—assists and a 22.5-point scoring average. And he is flashy.
"In college I didn't pass behind my back. The coach didn't like it. He thought it was a hot dog trick."
But in the NBA it is just another way the former Southern Illinois star cuts the mustard.
First recorded appearance of the name "hot dog" for a Weiner was in 1903.

Pornography Commission Suggested

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
AP Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — An officer of the American Psychoanalytic Association has suggested that the federal government set up a national commission to study whether to legalize pornography in the United States.
Dr. Bernard L. Pacella, chairman of the association's public information committee, made the suggestion after a seminar on pornography and violence at which participants said the dangers of pornography to society, to the family or to children, were minimal.
"Psychoanalysts in general," he said, "believe that there is no direct relationship between pornography and crime and violence."
But because there is great controversy over the subject, Dr. Pacella said, a major national study should be conducted to seek clear answers.
Such a commission, Dr. Pacella said, should include a psychiatrist, a sociologist, an anthropologist, an educator, opponents of legalized pornography and others.
The pornography seminar was held for science writers by the association. Dr. Pacella said, to explore analysts' viewpoints on current problems, part of a tendency in the profession to "move away from isolation to confrontation" with social issues.
Dr. Pacella, chief of the child psychiatry division at Roosevelt Hospital in New York, suggested the commission approach to the pornography question in an interview Wednesday after the seminar.
In Denmark, he said, legalization of pornography followed such a commission study.

MONEY CLIPS

by Mort Reed

DEAR MR. REED: My son works for a vending machine company and, since I am a coin collector of sorts, he spends a few hours each weekend looking for certain dates to help me complete my series. I asked him to keep an eye open for a 1960 small-date Lincoln cent and he doesn't know exactly what to look for. Is there one simple method of identifying this particular date?—Paula Redding (Niagara Falls Gazette).

There is a way and you have already mentioned it to your son when you asked him to keep his eyes open. Good eyesight is the only way, once you know the difference between small-date and normal-date Lincoln cents.

Until a few years ago, the date was stamped in the working die, but with the adoption of more sensitive equipment the mint found it could include the date in the model and transfer it to the master die and save time and money. When a new date was scheduled for circulation, it necessitated removing only one or two digits from the positive hub of a discontinued date, strike a new master die, sink the new numerals and produce the required number of hubs and working dies with the new date.

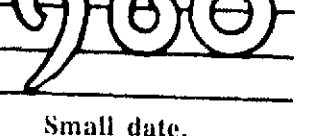

For example, to produce the 1959 Lincoln cent, die sinkers removed the last digit from the 1958 hubs or positive dies, sunk new master dies with only the numbers 195 showing and punched the figure 9 in the space previously occupied by the 8. From here, the required number of hubs and working dies were produced in the regular manner.

When the 1960 coinage was contemplated, it was necessary to remove two digits—the 5 and the 9—and to expedite the process the entire date was erased from the hub and several new master dies were sunk with nothing showing in the date area.

It is a fact that several dies are used in the mass production of hubs and working dies and apparently one of the workmen used a set of slightly smaller number punches, which resulted in no more than one working die turning out the small-date cent.

All coinage dies are made at the Philadelphia facility and the mint letter D is added at Denver to identify the pieces made at that mint. This explains the appearance of 1960 small-date one-cent pieces bearing the mint letter D.

Richard Yeoman in his 1970, 23rd Edition of "The Small date.

Guide Book of United States Coins" lists the 1960 small-date Lincoln cent at $5.25 uncirculated and $24 for a proof. The Denver small-date issue is somewhat less. In uncirculated condition it is valued at roughly 30 cents.

$100 Reward!

For information leading to the arrest and conviction of the persons who stole seven newspaper vending machines in downtown Hope the morning of Sept. 26 the undersigned newspapers will pay a cash reward of $100.

Information should be given either to the police or to the Hope Star office, and payment of the reward is guaranteed by Hope Star, which will reimburse for the other newspapers for their share.

All the stolen vending machines bear their newspaper names. Two were stolen from Arkansas Gazette; two from Shreveport Times; and three from Texarkana Gazette.

Please help us track down the guilty persons.

It's Best to Remove Large Kidney Stones

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—After several attacks of kidney colic, my husband passed a stone the size of a kidney bean. Is he likely to pass more of these? What can he do to prevent further attacks?

A—Kidney stones may be single or multiple. Those that are too large to pass down the ureter will not cause kidney colic but if there is any evidence that they are causing bleeding or interfering with the kidney's function, they should be removed.

Prevention would depend on which of the several types of stone your husband's kidney is making. In general, drinking at least three pints of fluid a day will help to prevent various salts from precipitating out of solution and starting a stone.

Q—I passed a kidney stone which the laboratory said consisted of calcium, ammonia and oxalates. I thought ammonia was a gas. What should I avoid eating?

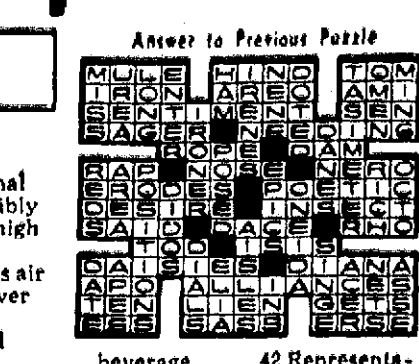

A—Ammonia is a gas but the ammonium ion is present in such salts as ammonium oxalate. You should avoid drinking more than a quart of milk a day if you have calcium stones.

Q—Six months ago I had a kidney colic that lasted 24 hours. X rays showed a stone in my ureter. Is there anything I can take to dissolve it? Could it cause cancer?

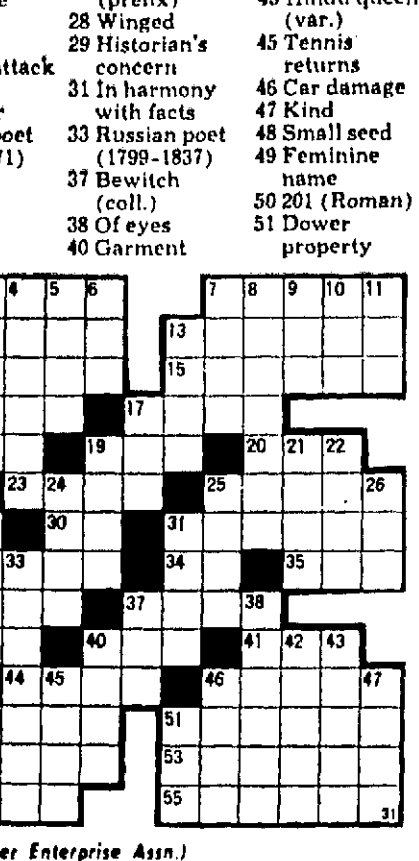

A—When a stone lodges in the ureter, it usually causes attacks of severe pain. Injection of oil into the ureter from below will help you pass the stone. It cannot be dissolved. It is not likely to cause cancer.

Q—My doctor says I have uric acid kidney stones. Where does the uric acid come from?

A—It is an end product of protein metabolism. Normally several grams are Most good players are overbidders. At least, they overbid a trifle with their good hands so as to reach close games and slams.

Most poor players are overbidders also. The good players win because they find the best line of play and usually make their doubtful contracts.

Now take a look at the North and South hands. You have overbid a trifle in order to get to four hearts. West opens the queen of diamonds and continues the suit. You are going to ruff that second diamond but, before doing so, you should plan your play.

Let's go about it together. You are sure of nine tricks and the odds are greatly in favor of the spade king being held by East. You can enter dummy with the 10 of trumps, take the spade finesse, run off the rest of your trumps and hope for poor discarding by your opponents to lead to an end play. Or maybe East holds just one little spade besides the king, in which case that king will drop for you.

You wish you could get to dummy twice and you see a way. It risks a two-trick set but you are willing to gamble an extra-trick penalty against game and rubber. You ruff the diamond with a high trump, lead a low heart and finesse dummy's eight. The eight holds and you have that extra entry to allow you to lead spades twice and, since East does hold the king, you have made your contract.

You have played the hand well and have been properly rewarded.

Group Votes Tax Relief to Individuals

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee, after tentatively agreeing on about $9 billion of relief for the nation's 70 million individual income taxpayers, moved to wrap up work today on the tax reform bill.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., had said he was certain the committee would meet its commitment to vote today to send the bill to the Senate for debate.

Some members facetiously called the bill a "Halloween monster" or a "tricks and treats bill."

The committee voted Thursday to generally go along with the individual income tax rate cuts in the House-passed bill. Long said some minor changes might be made in the final sessions on the measure, but in general the House approved relief would stand.

The committee rejected, once by a tie vote, an effort to give individual tax relief by increasing the personal exemption.

Instead, it decided for the approach favored by the House and the Nixon administration—cuts in the tax rate schedule.

If the tentative decisions stand up, this is the form the individual relief will take:

—A $4.5 billion reduction for all taxpayers by a cut of at least one percentage point in all brackets and up to 8 points at the top.

—A $2.65 billion reduction through a new low-income allowance designed to remove 5.2 million poverty-level families from the tax rolls and cut payments for an additional 7 million.

—A $1.4 billion reduction by raising the minimum standard deduction from the present 10 per cent of income with a $1,000 ceiling to 15 per cent with a $2,000 limit.

—A $445 million reduction by cutting the tax rates for all single persons.

These reductions, for example, would mean that a family of four with $7,500 of income would pay a $576 tax compared with $687 now.

Seeks Negro to Head New Industry Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has asked the NAACP and the National Urban League in New York to aid in his search for a Negro to head a new industry training program.

State Education Commissioner A. W. Ford recently nominated R. J. Altheimer, a Negro assistant principal at Little Rock Metropolitan High School for the job, but Rockefeller's administration rejected the appointment.

Mrs. Mary McLeod, Rockefeller's education adviser, said Altheimer's rejection had nothing to do with his race.

Folks Too Uncommon to Have a Common Cold Usually Have a Virus

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — What's in a name? Well, when it comes to having a disease, the name is half the fun.

There is really no point in getting an ailment if the mere name of it alone is enough to make you half-sick.

The reason that some people stay in bed with a virus is that they are too uncommon to catch a common cold.

Fortunately, medical nomenclature is rich in important sounding afflictions to which one can point with pride. You probably have had some of these for years and never even knew it.

Let us take the field of phobias. Are you afraid of robbers? Why, you poor thing, pull the covers over your head this very minute. You've got harpaxophobia, that's what you've got.

And do you worry over whether this mythical robber, if you

Finch to Use Ruling by Court in Action Against South Schools

By G. C. THELEN Jr.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary Robert H. Finch is hinting he intends to use the Supreme Court's desegregation decision as a springboard for vigorous, new action against hundreds of holdout southern school districts.

"By the language of the decision itself, neither the courts nor this department should tolerate any further delays in abolishing vestiges of the dual system," the secretary of health, education and welfare said in a statement Thursday.

He pledged maximum resources "to achieve educational sound and prompt desegregation."

Furthermore, Finch likely will send a letter to the approximately 800 districts within the next few weeks outlining his determination to bring about a quick end to still-segregated school systems, in a lettered sources said.

Finch's lieutenants in HEW's Office for Civil Rights are busy mapping desegregation initiatives in a new atmosphere of optimism.

One civil rights official referred to lunch Thursday as a "victory celebration."

Hijacker of Plane Frees Passengers

BANGOR, Maine (AP) — A Trans World Airlines jet, hijacked in early morning hours over California by a nervous and heavily armed young man, landed here for refueling Friday afternoon, then took off apparently for Shannon, Ireland.

There was no definite word on the plane's ultimate destination, but one report said it might be Cairo.

The plane earlier made stops in Denver and New York, where the hijacker fired a shot, but no one was injured.

DENVER (AP) — A hijacked Trans World Airlines jetliner on a gunpoint flight from California toward New York, landed in Denver at 7:37 a.m. EST to refuel and unload its 40 passengers and part of its crew.

Passengers started disembarking about 10 minutes later. They had little to say about their unscheduled wee hours flight, except that no one had been injured.

TWA's Denver manager, Jim Leonard, said everyone aboard the aircraft was all right.

"So far as I know, nobody is hurt," said Jim Leonard, TWA's Denver general manager.

The hijacker was demanding to continue the flight to New York.

The plane was hijacked at 4:42 a.m. EST on a flight from Los Angeles to San Francisco, the last leg of TWA Flight 85 from Baltimore, St. Louis and Kansas City.

"The plane came on the radio and said a man with a gun wants to go to New York," said a TWA spokesman in Los Angeles. "The dispatcher told the pilot there wasn't enough fuel and the man said he would go anywhere east," he added.

The man chose Denver and rejected Las Vegas, Nev., and Salt Lake City, Utah, the alternatives offered him for refueling.

TWA said in Los Angeles the gunman agreed to allow removal of luggage from the airliner in Denver, along with the passengers. The airline said it was arranging to fly the passengers

Jonesboro Needs Revenue

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Mayor Neil Stallings of Jonesboro says revenue for the city must be increased at least $120,000 to "meet the bare minimum demands."

The city's revenue is more than $1 million annually.

Stallings says four firemen and six policemen must be hired at a cost of $50,000 and that a five per cent pay boost for city employees, usually sought annually, would cost another $20,000.

U.S. Latin Role in for a Cutback

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is expected to announce tonight a cutback in the United States' traditional role as leader in Latin American economic development, sources say.

The President's long-awaited Latin American policy speech generally will reflect, sources say, a growing belief the United States can play no more than a minor role in pursuing the social, economic and political objectives established by the Alliance for Progress.

However, Nixon will say the United States will continue its interest in Latin American affairs, but more as a partner, the sources said.

Nixon's speech to the Inter-American Press Association meeting here will be broadcast live by satellite to 10 Latin American nations but will not be seen on U.S. television.

Nixon is said to believe that much of the anti-Americanism manifested on New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's series of trips to the region last summer is attributable, in part, to the gap between past U.S. rhetoric and action.

Another change in the Nixon policy, according to informed officials, will be treatment of all governments essentially as equals. Under the Alliance, foreign assistance frequently was withheld from regimes which overthrew the previous government.

The consensus is that use of aid as a means of encouraging political democracy has not worked. Well over half of all Latin Americans now live under military dictatorship.

The rebirth of military rule in Latin America is considered to be the result, in part, of the failure of civilian governments to deliver on Alliance promises.

Assessing the situation a year ago in a campaign statement, Nixon said the Alliance was foundering. Sources close to the administration say he believes it is essential that the United States reduce its promises to a level commensurate with its capabilities.

These sources say Nixon may propose modest steps toward liberalization of trade and aid policies.

Rain should diminish by Friday Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rainfall around the state will diminish tonight, clearing from the west, the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts. Skies will be clear in the eastern portion of the state by tonight or early Saturday.

Temperatures should be somewhat warmer over the west this evening and over the entire state Saturday, but lower readings are expected at night.

Weather for the Razorback football game in Fayetteville Saturday afternoon should be fair with cool to mild temperatures.

The system that has been producing rain in the state is now represented on the weather map by a low pressure center over Northern Missouri with a low pressure area and frontal zone extending southward from the center through East Central Arkansas to Central and Western Louisiana. The entire system will continue moving slowly eastward and northeastward through Saturday.

Highs Thursday ranged from 64 at Blytheville to 48 at Harrison.

Overnight lows were 36 at Fayetteville, 41 at Fort Smith, 42 at Harrison, 51 at Jonesboro and Texarkana, 52 at Little Rock, 55 at Pine bluff and Memphis, and 56 at Blytheville and El Dorado.

Rainfall reported for the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today included .39 of an inch of rain at Fayetteville; .94 at Harrison; .08 at Jonesboro; 2.05 at Pine Bluff; .07 at Blytheville; .09 at Texarkana; 2.61 at El Dorado; .30 at Memphis; 1.86 at Little Rock and .21 at Fort Smith.

Since Halt of Bombing War Allies Enemy Rebuilds Roads, Sign Secret 1970 Plan

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the year since the last U.S. bomb fell on North Vietnam, Hanoi has rebuilt the nation's road, rail and water transportation system—but key parts of its industry still are in rubble.

This is the assessment by U.S. intelligence analysts of North Vietnamese recovery efforts since Oct. 31, 1968, when President Lyndon B. Johnson ordered U.S. bombers to halt raids on the North.

Hanoi had started rehabilitation during the previous seven months, after Johnson limited bombing only to the 170-mile-long Panhandle. But much recovery work awaited the total end of bombing.

According to U.S. estimates, American bombers destroyed 35,000 structures and reduced industry to the primitive level of 1954, the year North Vietnam became independent after de-

Hyde Accused Same Day He Retired

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rosel H. Hyde, accused of contempt of Congress on the same day he was being lauded for 45 years of government service, is retiring today as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

Dean Burch, an Arizona lawyer who was the Republican national chairman in 1964-65, was confirmed by the Senate Thursday to take over as the new FCC chairman.

The House Commerce Committee voted Thursday to seek contempt charges against Hyde for refusing to supply some agency records involving the award of a radio broadcast license.

Word of the committee's unprecedented recommendation reached Hyde while he was being honored at an FCC retirement ceremony.

Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., whose committee voted 20-13 to recommend that the House cite Hyde for contempt, declared:

"This committee cannot accede to the proposition that the FCC, or any other agency may dictate when and under what circumstances the Congress may have access to information relating to the conduct of public business."

However, Hyde said: "I don't think I'm in contempt. I've only undertaken to protect the integrity of the hearing process."

Whether the issue will reach the House floor—where a sharp fight could be expected—appears doubtful.

Weyerhaeuser May Build Plant in Arkansas

TACOMA, Wash. — Arkansas is one of three states being considered by Weyerhaeuser Company of Tacoma for a $100 million mill complex, the firm's Board of Directors has announced.

The mill would be part of the expansion of the company's 11 million board and corrugating medium production capacity.

Weyerhaeuser said that engineering studies were being made at three different sites, one in Oklahoma, one in Arkansas and one in Mississippi. Transportation, water and raw material supply will help determine the site selected.

Weyerhaeuser, one of the world's largest wood products firms, announced in September that it had bought Dierks Forest, Inc., of Hot Springs, which owns 1.8 million acres of timberland in Arkansas and Oklahoma.

The price was $317 million, including cash and a new issue of Weyerhaeuser's convertible preferred stock. Dierks employs 2,000 persons in Arkansas and 1,000 in Oklahoma.

Rust Engineering Company of Birmingham has won the design contract for the new mill, which would include a 389-inch wide fourdrinier, the world's largest paper machine.

The mill's design calls for the latest technological developments in air and water pollution control.

The mill complex would serve the United States and export markets. It would have a daily capacity of 1,200 tons of linerboard and 400 tons of corrugating medium. The materials are used in the manufacture of corrugated shipping containers.

Plans call for the plant to start manufacturing by December 1971. Orders for major equipment already are being processed.

The company also said that at least one of the Mid-South sites under consideration would be reserved for future expansion in the pulp and paper industry in the region.
